DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The rejection of claims 1, 3, 5-6, and 8 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tang et al. (US 5750270) is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 3, and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Chen et al. (US 6753072).

Chen et al. disclose a magnetic recording medium having an adhesion layer formed from Ti corresponding to the claimed "perpendicular orientation promoting underlayer", a seedlayer formed from a materials such as Pt or Pd corresponding to the claimed perpendicular magnetic enhancement layer, a Co alloy perpendicular magnetic recording layer thereon, and a protective layer and lubricant layer thereon (see col. 6, line 1 to col. 7, line 5).

With respect to the functional language “perpendicular magnetic enhancement” layer and “perpendicular orientation promoting” underlayer set forth in claim 1, the layers taught by Chen et al. are capable of functioning in the claimed capacity and therefore, meet these functional limitations. The layers taught by Chen et al. are inherently capable of functioning in the claimed capacity because they are formed from the same materials as disclosed and claimed by Applicant and the magnetic recording layer deposited thereon exhibits a perpendicular orientation.

It has been held that where claimed and prior art products are identical or substantially identical, or are produced by identical or substantially identical processes, the burden of proof is shifted to applicant to show that prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess characteristics of claimed products where the rejection is based on inherency under 35 USC §102 or on prima facie obviousness under 35 USC §103, jointly or alternatively. In re Best, Bolton, and Shaw, 195 USPQ 430. (CCPA 1977).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The rejection of claim 7 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tang et al. (US 5750270) in view of Haratani et al. (US 6420058) is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 4 and 15-16 are allowable over the closest prior art to Tang et al.

Tang et al. fails to teach or suggest the use of a Ti perpendicular orientation promoting layer having the claimed thickness with an fcc perpendicular magnetic enhancement layer thereon having the required thickness (claim 4) or the addition of a soft magnetic layer to a structure including an fcc "enhancement" layer having a specific thickness, a perpendicular orientation promoting layer and a perpendicular magnetic recording layer.

7. Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed 8/25/05 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
